WALTHAM, MA (Nov. 9, 2018) – Harvey Building Products announced today that it has acquired Northeast Building Products Corporation (NBP) based in Philadelphia, PA.

“Northeast is a first-class organization and we are excited about their addition to the Harvey portfolio of companies,” says Jim Barreira, CEO of Harvey Building Products. “Alan and Fran Levin operate an efficient organization employing a talented management team, dedicated associates, and state-of-the-art equipment. NBP’s product lines and loyal customer base will further Harvey Building Products’ capabilities and commitment to serving the large dealer segment.”

“Our organization and customers will be energized by this transaction,” said Alan Levin, president and CEO of NBP. “This new affiliation with Harvey Building Products provides us with an even greater depth of knowledge and resources required to support the continued, fast growth of our company and our customer base.”

Northeast Building Products, a 40+-year-old, family-owned company produces a complete line of vinyl windows and patio doors, as well as entry doors. The company has three manufacturing facilities in the Greater Philadelphia area, and their windows and doors are sold in 14 states across the country. Northeast will join Soft-Lite, LLC, and Thermo-Tech Windows and Doors, LLC as part of the Harvey Building Products family of businesses.
